

An opportunity to interact with real Forensic Scientists and learn about the techniques that are used to solve crimes.

forensic science awareness events

Not only do we love our job, we love sharing our science with the next generation!

Please contact Lynne today to discuss how, what, who, where and when.

Here's what Year 6 students have said about their experience:

You have made a big difference in me

My Mum was amazed by what I had learnt but I said it was all because of you - now Science is my favourite topic

We loved Forensic Day

You really helped us to understand more about science

we got to wear special white suits and learnt how scientists gather and analyse data

I learnt so much that if I wrote a list it would be at least 4 or maybe 5 miles long

Lynne Hingley and Jo Millington have a combined experience in Forensic Science of over 40 years and various academic and professional qualifications*. They are both biologists. Lynne is also involved at her own daughter's school and understands the challenges facing educators today. Not only are they passionate about bringing accessible science into schools they enjoy donuts, so if a box goes missing from the school staff room, they are on hand to help you investigate!
